

A FEW PROFITEERS ADDED TO THE PENN ELEVEN MIGHT TEACH THE LINE HOW TO CHARGE

DETROIT THREATENS TO BECOME ONE OF BIG FOOTBALL COLLEGES, WITH JIMMY DUFFY AS ITS COACH

By ROBERT W. MAXWELL
Sports Editor, Evening Public Ledger

OUT in Detroit there is a football team which threatens to make trouble for the big boys in the future. It is the University of Detroit eleven, coached by Jimmy Duffy, of Colgate, and in the last two years a great record has been made. The team plays hard, clean football and is rapidly climbing to the front.

The University of Detroit stepped into the picture in 1917 when John P. Scallion, the most prominent of the alumni, signed Gilmore Dibble to coach the football team. Dibble never took charge because of the war and went to the Navy. Duffy was selected as his successor and has made good.

Last Saturday I refereed a game in Detroit between the University and West Virginia Wesleyan. Detroit won by the score of 29 to 0 and played as well as a majority of the eastern eleven. The attack was sound and the plays used were similar to those seen in this section. Line plumes, end runs and forward passes were run off smoothly, and on the defense the work also was high class.

Detroit has a pair of tackles good enough to make any team in the country. They are Voss and Ellis. Against West Virginia these boys played a wonderful game, breaking up all plays directed against them and opening holes in the line for the backs to slide through. Kane and Wiegert are good ends, Larkin and Metzger high-class guards and Kenney plays center as it should be played.

They play a clean game out there. A visiting team is not subjected to any rough handling, as sometimes is the case. In fact, the Detroit authorities go out of their way to make the visit a pleasant one.

Eligibility rules are strict. Next year or the year after the one-year rule will go into effect, and then the University will gain the recognition it deserves.

DETROIT is like an eastern school and will schedule games with eastern teams next year.

Blunder on Free Kick

PENN STATE blundered in the game with Lehigh last Saturday and almost lost the game. The players forgot the rule about a free kick where all men are out after the ball crosses the goal line.

Lehigh made a free kick and tried for a goal from the field. The ball sailed wide of the goal posts and crossed the goal line. The Penn State players made no effort to get the ball, but one spectator jumped out of the stands, rushed over, picked up the ball and handed it to the umpire.

Golman, the Lehigh center, was after the ball and fell on it after the umpire threw it on the ground. A touchdown was claimed, but it wasn't allowed because of the approved ground rule, which says that any picked ball going into the stands or among the spectators after crossing the goal line without being touched will count as a touchdown.

Lehigh did not protest, because the referee was right. However, that spectator had remained in his seat. Lehigh would have beaten State by the score of 11 to 7. That would have been a big surprise.

A KICKED ball is dead after crossing the goal line before being touched at the field of play, except on a kick-off and free kick. It will be well to remember this in future games.

Warner May Cross the Dope

A NENT State, it might be well to say that the coming battle royal to be staged on Friday Field between Glenn Warner's Panther and Thanksgiving Day takes on considerable significance. The comparatively easy victory of Hugo Bezdek's eleven over Penn, with

HERMAN TAYLOR IS NEW MATCHMAKER AT OLYMPIA

"Muggsy" Now in Dual Role, as He Will Continue in Same Capacity at Camden Sportsmen's Club

By LOUIS H. JAFFE

AT LAST it comes out. For more than a week it has been a mystery as to who was doing the matchmaking at the Olympia following the announcement recently that Johnny Mooney, of Boston, had separated himself from the Broad street arena. But it came out last night, when several local sportsmen were commenting on the still star program arranged for the Olympia on Thanksgiving Day.

"That's a swell show," said Phil Baier, "I say so," came back. "Willie" Domenech, who is wintering in Philadelphia during the off-season season, "but no one knows who did the job."

"Why don't you still ask?" asked Bobbi Gunnis of another member in the party, addressing Herman Taylor, and the latter responded with a smile.

Thus, it finally was announced officially that Herman, who permits his intimate friends to call him "Mugsey," had signed up as the new master of matches at the Olympia.

Thus Taylor is assuming in the dual role of matchmaker for the remainder of the 1920-21 season, as he will continue to act in the same capacity at the Camden Sportsmen's Club.

Muggsy sat together the whole Monday night programs at the Olympia, in addition to the holiday cards and a number of Wednesdays night shows interspersed with sessions to stage his bouts in Camden about once a month, with Eddie McLaughlin in three sessions and Mike Farrell in three sessions and Missy McLaughlin was put to sleep by Jack Doyle in four rounds.

BROWN WINS BY SHADE

Trenton Boxer Has Slight Advantage Over Jack Brazzo at Cambria

Jimmy Brown, 142 pounds, of Trenton, won a slight edge yesterday over Jack Brazzo, 137, weight of Hudson, at the Cambria A. C. last night. Brown piled up a nice lead in the first six rounds, but Brazzo scored in the last of those come-back streaks in the last two rounds, but even so, that the Trenton matman was entitled to the verdict by a narrow margin.

The bout ended in a tie, the scales showing 142½ pounds to 137½. Brown Jimmy Murphy, 142, was being trained by Shaeffer.

Joe Toltz has been matched to meet Charlie Rees, 142½, of Philadelphia, in one of the bouts on the same card in the Ring Boxing Show, to be held Saturday evening at the Madison Square Garden, New York, on Friday night.

Scraps About Scrappers

Meets Manayunk Tomorrow at Richmond and Orthodox Streets

Manager Dan Briskin received word yesterday afternoon that the battle-axe Meligian, owner of the Richmond and Orthodox Streets, would not be able to fill the engagement, and after hastening around secured the strong Mamajek crew, a team that has not been defeated all season and which has victories over Somerton, Pottstown, Lancaster and Mahanoy City.

In view of the hard game with Hollingshead on Thanksgiving Day, it was not an intention of scheduling such a hard contest, but there was no other opponent in sight and Briskin secured several stars from other teams to help out so he could make the best slate for the holiday game at Hollingshead on Thanksgiving afternoon.

Marion Kramer, the manager of the Richmond, who is the only one of the two who has not been defeated, is the favorite to win the match.

Carl Tremaine and Jim Hickey are expected to be a host of the best contests on Monday night, the remainder of the week, the former, who is the favorite to meet Eddie Hickey, will enter the ring against Whitey Williams, who is the favorite to meet Eddie Hickey, who is the favorite to meet Eddie Hickey.

Johnny Dundee and Willie Jackson, Jr., reported from New York, are to box there on Thanksgiving Day, and the former is the favorite to meet Eddie Hickey, while the latter is the favorite to meet Eddie Hickey.
